

Listing ID: 468

Company Name: The Real Estate Company of Los Angeles

Description: I know that Real Estate is very personal business. It is my personal touch that makes me one of the leading Real Estate professional in the area. When I started my own business, I knew I I would focus on solving financial problems for clients, not simply selling properties. I have a deep understanding of financial aspects of Real Estate. We get business from the relationship we build. About 95 percent of our business comes from people we know or socialize with. By focusing on my community, I am building professional relationship and a personal one.
